Citi Indonesia Honors Dr. Ridha D. M. Wirakusumah with the Citi Distinguished Alumni Award at Citi Alumni Network 2025

Indonesia, November 26, 2025 – Citibank, N.A., Indonesia (Citi Indonesia) recently hosted Citi Alumni Network 2025 event, the annual reunion event that brings together former Citi Indonesia senior leaders who now serve in influential roles across various industries, including financial sector, banking, private sectors and government institutions.

As part of the global initiative, in Indonesia this event carries the theme 'Honoring Our Legacy, Inspiring the Future'. This year's gathering celebrated Citi alumni who have made meaningful, far-reaching contributions to Indonesia. The highlight of the evening was the Citi Distinguished Alumni Award, recognizing select individuals whose impact in their leadership continues to advance the nation and empower communities.

This year's award was presented to Dr. Ridha D. M. Wirakusumah, Chief Executive Officer of Indonesia Investment Authority (INA), under the 'Leadership' category. He was recognized for his strategic vision and deep understanding of both public and private sector finance in Indonesia, positioning him as one of the nation's most respected financial leaders.

Batara Sianturi, CEO of Citi Indonesia, expressed his appreciation for the alumni community and their ongoing influence across the country's economy. "The Citi Alumni Network continues to reflect Citi's legacy of shaping leaders who bring the most significant impact on Indonesia's economy. We also congratulate Dr. Ridha on this year's recognition—a well-deserved acknowledgement of his strategic leadership."

"Citi is not just a bank. Citi is a 'university of bankers' and the benchmark of banking industry," added Batara.

Dr. Ridha D. M. Wirakusumah, CEO of INA, shared, "This recognition carries a special meaning for me because my years at Citi were truly foundational. They were the period in which I learned what disciplined leadership looks like, how governance, robust processes, and professionalism are not merely frameworks, but safeguards that anchor sound judgment and prevent costly missteps. Those lessons stayed with me long after I left the organization."

"I was fortunate to be entrusted with responsibilities that stretched my capabilities early in my career. The experience shaped not only how I lead, but also how I serve. Citi's culture of excellence, and the people who embodied it, continues to influence the way I approach complex challenges today. I hope the values we carried forward will keep inspiring future leaders to contribute meaningfully to Indonesia's development," added Dr.Ridha.

Dr. Ridha has over 30 years of leadership experience in banking, financial services, and investment, both globally and in Indonesia. Prior to joining INA, he served as the CEO of Bank Permata, Head of Indonesia at KKR & Co., and CEO of Bank Maybank Indonesia. He also held key regional roles at AIG and GE Capital across Asia Pacific, Thailand, and Indonesia.

Earlier in his career, Dr. Ridha played a pivotal role in the public finance sector as Head of Public Sector at Citi Indonesia, where he was instrumental in shaping strategic financial solutions for government and state-owned institutions. Dr. Ridha holds a Doctorate in Business Administration from City University of Hong Kong. He also completed the Advanced Management Program (Finance and Financial Management Services) at the University of California, Berkeley – Haas School of Business. Additionally, Dr. Ridha holds an MBA in Finance and International Business, and a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and science from Ohio University.

Other distinguished Citi alumni who have received this award include Destry Damayanti, Jerry Ng, Ignasius Jonan, Robby Djohan, Peter F. Gontha, Gita Wirjawan, Barry Lesmana, and Dr. Jusuf Arbianto.

Launched in 2012, Citi Alumni Network is a Citi global initiative and serves as an important platform for alumni to stay connected, network, and share professional experiences amidst the dynamic development of the industrial and financial sector. Since then, Citi Alumni Network has significantly grown and now boasts more than 27,000 members worldwide. In Indonesia, this long-standing event has been held since 2016.
